EXPORTS OF BRAZILIAN COOPERATIVES

Based on a long-term strategic vision and constant investment in business management professionalism, the cooperative system in Brazil has become stronger and started operations in other countries. The positive results of their exports show that this sector works with high quality products and services, thus a benchmark in the trade of many of these items.

This Brazilian Catalog of Export Cooperatives is published annually to list the products and services exported by the Brazilian cooperatives, ensure visibility of their international business ability and consolidate them in international markets. It contains the names, contact information and main products traded by the cooperatives.

Always aware of new demands of the society, the cooperatives focus on inclusive growth, environmental and social sustainability, democratic management and conscious capitalism. They believe that a fair and balanced world can be achieved only when economic development goes hand in hand with social development. More than just believe, they work for that.

This document offers an opportunity to learn about the products and services exported by Brazilian cooperatives.

EXPORT NUMBERS OF COOPERATIVES

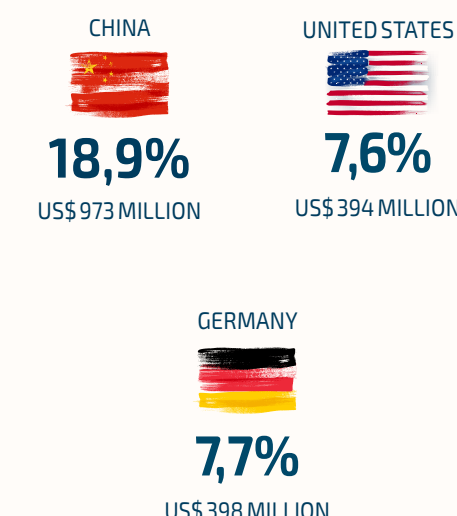

The Brazilian cooperatives presented exports of US$ 5.137 billion in 2016, presenting a trade surplus of US$ 4.6 billion, and selling products and services to 147 countries. The gross amount of exports in this period had a growth of 12.09%, increasing from 3.3 million tons in 2015 to 3.7 million tons in 2016. Besides agricultural products, they exported ores and shoes, as well as transport and tourism services.

THE COOPERATIVE SYSTEM

More than a business model, the cooperative system seeks to make the world a fairer, happier, more balanced place, with better opportunities for everyone. It shows that it is possible to combine economic development and social development, productivity and sustainability, at individual and collective levels.

As cooperatives are people-oriented, not capital-oriented, organizations, they do not retain or speed up capital concentration; otherwise, they distribute wealth more fairly. The role of a cooperative as an agent of economic and social development is remarkable. It starts when people join around the same purpose, creating an organization where everyone owns the business. And it continues with a cycle of gains also for the country and the planet.

According to data from the International Co-operative Alliance (ICA), a global organization that represents this sector, one out of seven people in the world is a cooperative member, which means the cooperative system has the perspective to consolidate as the fastest growing business model worldwide.

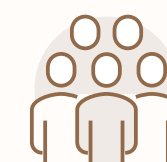

In Brazil, the cooperatives are represented by the Brazilian Cooperative Organization (OCB - Organização das Cooperativas Brasileiras), which aims to create an environment that favors the consolidation of cooperative businesses, developing actions to promote the creation of public policies and the definition of regulatory frameworks that address the particularities of this sector. Fulfilling its strategic objective to support cooperatives in market insertion, the OCB develops commercial intelligence projects that promote competitiveness.

We are present in all 27 Brazilian states through our state units, which are guided by the same principles and values as the nation-wide organization. These state units are the link between the OCB and the reality of each region.
